

What's Going
On...

Kristina

What Makes You Happy?

There is a lot on all of us right now from the pandemic to the negativity that seems to be all around. I do believe people rise to the occasion and who they really are is who they will be when times get tough. Some people just thrive on creating conflict for others. Here's what I am choosing to make me happy:

I am choosing to notice the Lemonade Stand down the street from our office... Several kids positioned themselves at the end of a driveway with a table and sign. When I passed, 3 cars were backed up on the street waiting. I know, I just felt better seeing a simple Lemonade Stand.

I am choosing to notice a man that walks everyday and makes it a point to wave his cane at each and every car with the biggest smile you have ever seen.

I am choosing to take my son Gavin's advice the night he gave me a pep talk. He told me that if he could deal with some kids, a few years ago, that were negative towards him, then I could get through what was bothering me. Love that boy!

I am choosing to notice the attention to detail someone in our office has... When sitting in my car, talking on the phone, I could only see this hand, from around the side of the building, reaching around in the landscaping. It looked pretty funny and when I got out and walked around to see what was going on, it was Michael clipping a few small bushes. He said he just noticed they need attention.

I am choosing to notice Payten's precious 6-year old smile and to smile back more.

I am choosing to notice small town shops. I will stop and shop more to support our hometown products.

I am choosing to attend church, after a long Covid break, because it is just speaking to me right now and I missed it.

I am choosing to notice someone that needs more than I do and taking time to spend with them.

I am choosing to help a child feel included. Payten keeps telling me that all the girls in her class are wearing the same school jacket, and so I called the office, and they said the SpiritWear Order Forms would be coming out soon where we could order one. When the forms came out, I thought there are probably other children that do not get to order SpiritWear and may feel like Payten, so I am ordering some extra for the school to give out as they need.

I am choosing to tip more at restaurants, right now, because I can help a little more.

I am choosing to be in the moment and enjoy a ride across a piece of land with special people that have loved and cared for that land.

Negativity keeps coming towards all of us, but who we are will define where we are going. Share some positive I AM CHOOSING on our Facebook page:

JCMO Area Homes for Sale.

